

Newton has proven the inverse-square law for the ellipse. Now he treats the parabola — the limiting orbit that opens to infinity. A body at P feels a force drawn to the focus S , and SP is the radius joining them. The question: does this open orbit still yield $F \propto 1/SP^2$? Newton answers yes, by the same Prop. VI machinery.